Matters discussed in this presentation may constitute forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements include statements concerning plans, objectives, goals, strategies, future events or performance, and underlying assumptions and other statements, which are other than statements of historical facts. The words "believe," "expect," "anticipate," "intends," "targets," "estimate," "forecast," "project," "will," "may," "should" and similar expressions identify forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements include statements regarding: strategies, outlook and growth prospects; future plans and potential for future growth; liquidity, capital resources and capital expenditures; growth in demand for products; economic outlook and industry trends; developments of markets; the impact of regulatory initiatives; and the strength of competitors.

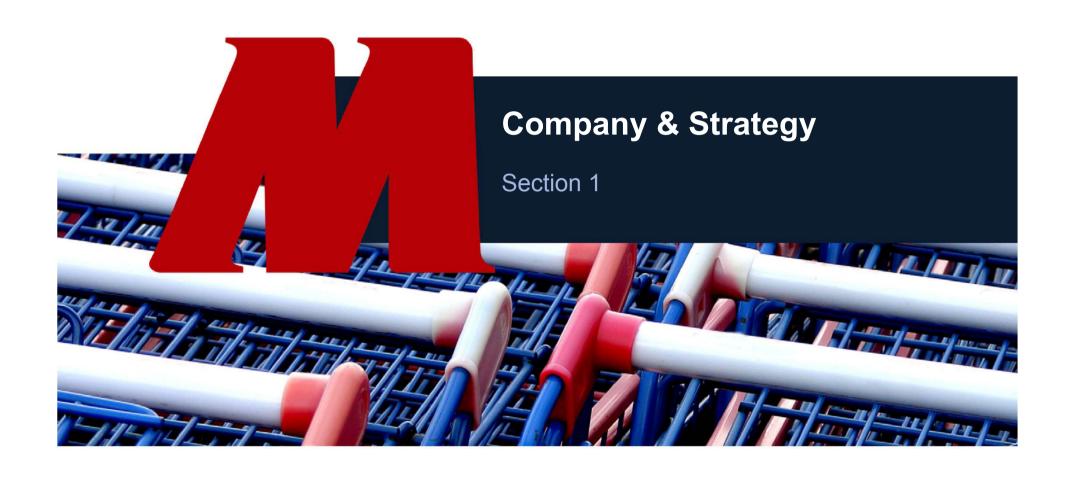

The forward-looking statements in this presentation are based upon various assumptions, many of which are based, in turn, upon further assumptions, including without limitation, management's examination of historical operating trends, data contained in our records and other data available from third parties. Although the Company believes that these assumptions were reasonable when made, these assumptions are inherently subject to significant uncertainties and contingencies which are difficult or impossible to predict and are beyond its control and it may not achieve or accomplish these expectations, beliefs or projections. In addition, important factors that, in the view of the Company, could cause actual results to differ materially from those discussed in the forward-looking statements include the achievement of the anticipated levels of profitability, growth, cost and synergy of its recent acquisitions, the timely development and acceptance of new products, the impact of competitive pricing, the ability to obtain necessary regulatory approvals, the condition of the economy and political stability in Russia and the other markets of operations and the impact of general business and global economic conditions.

Some of the information in the presentation is still in draft form and has not been legally verified and will only be finalised at the time of the Offering.

Neither the Company, nor any of its agents, employees or advisors intend or have any duty or obligation to supplement, amend, update or revise any of the forward-looking statements contained in this presentation or to update or to keep current any other information contained in this presentation.

The information and opinions contained in this document are provided as at the date of this presentation and are subject to change without notice.

^{} excluding St. Petersburg and Leningrad region

Improved operating efficiency

1. Increase in number of stores

2. Sales per square metre growth thanks to:

- Traffic growth:
 - Macroeconomic factors
 - Increased market share due to outflow of customers from open markets to discounters
 - More attractive assortment and pricing
 - Improved quality of service
 - Increased attractiveness of stores to consumers
- Ticket growth:
 - Macroeconomic factors: inflation in consumer basket staples
 - More expensive SKUs in the assortment

3. Cost efficiencies

- Better terms from suppliers due to growing purchasing power
- Less costly expansion into existing markets with already high recognition
- Increased efficiency of in-house logistics
- Increased share of Private Label products
- Optimisation of assortment by replacing slow-moving SKUs
- Labour productivity growth
- Streamlined business processes

Working capital and capital expenditure

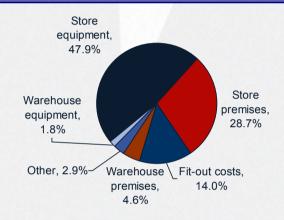

Inventory days, 2003-2005

Source: IFRS Financial Statements, Management estimates

- Working capital as of 31 December 2005 amounted to US$
 16.6m, having increased by US$ 29.7m
- The significant increase in working capital requirements was due to an increase in the scale of operations as well as changes in turnover days
- Inventory turnover has increased marginally from 29 days in 2004 to 32 days in 2005
- Trade payables turnover has decreased slightly from 41 days in 2004 to 34 days in 2005

Capital expenditure structure, 2005

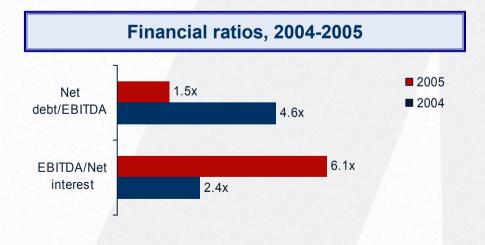

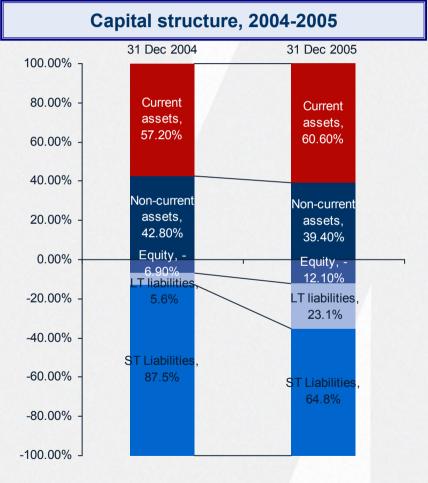

- 2006 capex budget:
 - Up to 400 store openings
 - Store improvement programme (additional trading equipment, repair and maintenance)
 - Expanding warehousing capacity
 - Installation of cool storage in all Distribution Centres
 - Additional trucks

Capital structure

- Magnit significantly improved its financial standing in 2005:
 - The net debt/EBITDA ratio decreased from 4.6x in 2004 to 1.5x in 2005
 - EBITDA/Net Interest increased from 2.4x in 2004 to 6.1x in 2005
- A major improvement in capital structure in 2005: a reduction in short-term financing from 88% of total capital in 2004 to 65% in 2005, strengthening liquidity
